Please follow this for me and if necessary I will meet with the interested parties.

At no place do I see a definitive written requirement that PPB must have open filing of codeword material. An oral comment from a staff officer is not enough.

Why can't they use safes and avoid the extra costs of a secure vault.

It is now rather late in the game. [redacted] Tang

Mr Bowerman —

FYI - in case any questions raised by PPB with you. (I delayed OJ's paper getting to you altho I didn't expect it to be so long).
